Office of the Minister

Honourable Sauni Tongatule

Fakaalofa lahi atu.

Fakaue kua mæke ke moua e magaaho nai ke tohia falu a manatu fakakise ko e Ikipule ke he faahi gahua leveki mae moui tau tagata . Ko e tohi fakatokatoka gahua ha Niue ke Tanaki- Leveki- Puipui -Anoiha, kua pehe

My term as Minister of Social Services began when the world was being introduced to the COVID-19 pandemic in 2020. This saw the beginning of two years of uncertainty and heightened anxiety because much was unknown about this new disease.

Much of my current term as Minister has been engaging in Niue’s COVID-19 response alongside Cabinet colleagues and the staff of the Health Department who continue to be the lead agency for COVID-19 in Niue. We had to manage the public’s expectations and balance it with the scientific evidence provided by health experts around the world. I am so proud of what we have achieved as a nation in remaining free from this pandemic for at least two years.

Now, it is time to move on from the pandemic and focus our efforts on national priorities to enhance our society and the wellbeing of our people. Social services are key to building a nation and I am confident that if we invest well in our people, we will reap the benefits for our future generations. I am however, worried that we are falling behind in relation to our efforts to combat non-communicable diseases, such as diabetes, gout and hypertension. These diseases require lifestyle and behavioral change and must come from an individual’s decision to change, it cannot be achieved by medical teams alone.

Our education system will continue to provide the best opportunities for learning of all students, and prepare them for the global arena. We want students to aim high and not be afraid to meet future challenges. Our justice department will continue to support the administration of the Niue High Court, but it also needs to be well resourced to do so. I am happy that the Government has prioritized the building of a functional fit-for-purpose Justice Department in the next few years.

We, the people, are Niue’s Tāoga; we are the custodians of everything about Niue, and we must continue to uphold our identity as Tagata Niue. In the past few years, I have witnessed a renewed sense of pride in Vagahau Niue through those who have chosen to learn about it in more depth at tertiary level. Through partnerships and collaboration, I hope to see this course being made available to people outside of Niue as well.

As the Minister for Social Services, I am honoured and proud of our achievements as a Ministry. I would like to thank all the staff for making my job easier and enjoyable. Thank you to everyone within the Ministry for your dedication, and passion to serve our people.

Nakai fai taha ka ko tautolu ni ke lagaki hake e ha tautolu a motu nai kua tufugatia he Atua.

Kia fakamonuina mai he Atua e tau amamanakiaga ke he vaha Kilisimasi moe Tau Fooku.

Niue Public Service Commission

Chairperson Ida Talagi Hekesi

The equity and fair opportunity rights of the people of Niue in accessing quality services in the fields of Education, Health, Social Welfare, Legal Protection; and that maintenance of Niue culture is mandated under Niue law.

The core function is to ensure that Niue is a democratic and inclusive society that protects the people of Niue through the services offered by the departments.

Acknowledgements

- To the Health Department who with limited resources continue to manage day to day health services in addition to COVID-19 challenges that Niue has faced in the last couple of years.
- To the Education Department who are the architects of the children of Niue's future. The National Certificate of Educational Achievement (NCEA) results have been of high standard and on par and sometimes surpassing New Zealand and regional results.
- To Tāoga Niue Department as the caretaker of the culture of Niue.
- Justice, Lands, Survey & Community Services for maintaining and upholding the laws and the lands of Niue as well as the continued maintenance and welfare of the elderly, children, village councils and the community of Niue.

Director General

The Mission of the Ministry is aligned to the Social Services Pillar which is

'To ensure that all Niue's people enjoy a harmonious and healthy lifestyle in a thriving, educated and safe community that has access to a wide range of quality social services, including cultural & heritage values and identity'.

Gaylene Tasmania

Can you give a brief overview of the Ministry of Social Services (MoSS) and your vision for the Ministry's future?

- MOSS comprises of four line Departments; namely Education, Health, Justice, Lands, Survey & Community Services and Tāoga Niue.
- Their purpose is to deliver quality health, education, cultural, judicial, and community services for all of Niue's people.
- They are also responsible for developing and delivering effective and efficient client-centered services by providing Government with strategic and population-based policy advice relating to, and for the benefit of, the people of Niue.

What are you most proud of in your career so far?

- I would have to say, it's my role as the first DG for the Ministry of Social Services. I was the Director of Community Affairs before successfully applying for the position of DG in early 2014 and I have been in the role ever since.
- This has been the greatest challenge of my professional life because I was no longer providing oversight for one Department, but for four, and each one had a different organizational culture that I had to navigate my way through.

What are you hoping to achieve within the Ministry in the next 3 years?

- At this point in time, I feel rather unqualified to respond to this question because of the Government's plan for public service restructuring. Nevertheless, I can share what I proposed in the Business Plan that I submitted to the Public Service Commission for consideration. There are three overarching strategic priorities for the Ministry over the next three years. These are:
- Transforming the Ministry of Social Services
- Contributing to Social Sector Investment; and
- Supporting strong, inclusive communities

Department of Health

Vision

A healthy population, well supported by quality health services.'

Dr Eddie Akau'ola
Director

The Department of Health employs over 60 staff working in various fields in preventative and curative health services for all people living in Niue.

Our ability to provide effective services, and the scope of those services into the future, is highly dependent on the size and composition of the population.

- The primary goal for all health workers is to help people with their health concerns and provide appropriate health care services to treat various illnesses. These services include aged care unit, the covid-19 isolation hospital unit, the quarantine PCR Covid-19 testing station and laboratory, public health, maternal health.
- Treatment services and programs provided at the hospital include general medical practice, medicines, emergency, afterhours medical support, minor surgery, maternity services, radiology, pathology laboratory services, pharmacy, physiotherapy, paramedical and dental services.

Niue has and will continue to face challenges in the health sector. The Health Department has had significant challenges before the world Covid-19 pandemic. Since then, the people of Niue have seen an increase in medical referrals to NZ, shortage of qualified health workers, travel restrictions overseas, and the high cost of getting medicines.

In conclusion I would like to acknowledge all experts, doctors, administrators and support from across all walks of life and the world at large, as we strive to find a balance in our work and endeavor to deliver appropriate healthcare services for all.

What's happening at Health

Aged Care Unit – Achievements

The Aged Care Unit is staffed by a group of strong, smart and dedicated female Caregivers.

From May to November 2019 and January 2021 to September 2022, eight Caregivers were locally trained by Mrs Meleniue Hasini (NZ Registered Nurse/Australia Age Care Trainer) in the field of Healthcare Assistant Level 2 and Level 3 certificate (NZQA Accredited).

This training initiative was supported by the late Colleen Figo Kulatea Ioane, Clivenn Naepi, retired PNO Puasina Tatui, current PNO Rose Siohane, PPHO Grizelda Mokoia, Acting Director (at the time) Dr Le'Roy Tatui and Director General for MOSS Gaylene Tasmania. Congratulations on achieving your certificates Aged Care Staff.

Breast Cancer Awareness Month

During the month of October (or Pinktober as it's commonly known in Niue) the Health Department hosted two events to show their support for people fighting against breast cancer and remembering those who have passed away. The first event was the walkathon followed by the Hula class led by Liline Morrissey.

Breast Cancer is the second leading cancer in the world for women. The department appreciates everyone who turned up to take part and show their support.

Thank you again and see you all next year.

Department of Education

Vision

They should possess the skills and knowledge to become learners for life and be adaptable, flexible and resilient citizens.

Updates from Niue High School

Warm greetings to you all. We graciously give back our thanksgiving and acknowledgements to our Lord Jesus Christ for His continued blessings. A lot has happened since our last bulletin.

The school community faced challenges that have tested the tenacity and faith of our leaders, teachers, and students. These are but very difficult times. We are steadfast in holding our Lord Jesus Christ close to our hearts through prayer and faith, and for that we are truly grateful as we lean on Him for guidance always.

Niue High School Teachers

Special Tribute

- We remember our dear colleague and friend, Mr. Dean Nevalagi, in this bulletin. Dean passed away suddenly on the morning of Tuesday 11th October at school. This rocked the school community to the core. He will always be remembered for a legacy that is unmatched and valued by staff and students together. He left behind a distraught school community, and his wife Joyce Labitad-Nevalagi, who is a teacher at the school.

NCEA Exams

- Exams started on Sunday the 6th November and will end on 2nd December 2022. Senior students are now at home on study break. We wish them the very best.

End of Year Reports

- These will be handed out on Friday 2nd December. Due to disruptions of COVID-19 and other matters, we have not had ample opportunity to provide this feedback to you. This is due to our busy schedule coordinating the many events at school with staff and student well-being a focus.

Professional Development

- A team from NZQA arrived last week for professional development with staff around the changes to NCEA going forward. It was great to see that our preparations are on track to accommodate the changes that will be fully implemented by 2026. The team were able to meet with the Parents NCEA panel, and through them, information pamphlets of the changes will be distributed.
- We also acknowledge our Director BIRTHA Tongahai who is soon to be retiring soon

As we near the end of the year, we can only anticipate that we end it well. The school continues to ask for your full support and cooperation at all times. Do get in touch with the Principal and/or the Deputy Principal should you have any questions.
